Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes. "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrotilous diathesis. I have cured many invoterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equalsit for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala, writes: "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician though nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After the desire remains."

Syphilis and Morcurial Disease.

New Olleans, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Aver: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla. Thave cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla atsadily taken cured him in flow weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoconsiderable, part of it, so that I believe the discorder would soon resolt his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered exeruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

DR. J. C. Aven: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Meanmatism for a long time, which baffied the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and rastored my general theath so much that I am far better than before I was intacked. I think it a wonderful medicine.

English and Continental Summary.

The Irish Church question still holds the lead in English politics, and by Mr. Disraeli dragging the Queen's name into the struggle has assumed quite a new feature. The last two resolutions of Mr. Gladstone, "asking the Crown only for leave to discuss the provisions of a suspensory bill, suspending all new appointments to bishoprics, capitular appointments and Crown livings till the 1st of August, 1869," have passed the House without a division, amidst tremendous cheering, the Ministry giving them a "decided negative," but declining to divide. Under these circumstances what would be the use of Mr. Disraeli exercising the power of dissolution which he no doubt possesses? If he dare not divide the House what would be the good of his appealing to the country, especially when he acknowledges his power of dissolving Parliament is confined to the Irish Church question, irrespective of all defeats he might otherwise exparience? The condition of the Mans istry must now be deplorable, and their tenure of office under such cira cumstances humiliating. Some blame Mr. Gladstone for not moving a vote of want of confidence; but as he has often proved himself almost too courprudential motives; and that he is quietly waiting his time to resume the leadership of the House of Commons, for which position Mr. Disraeli has proved himself totally unfit. Whether Mr. Disraeli dissolves the House or not, the Conservative party and the Irish Church are alike doomed .- Another topic occupying a prominent place in the press is the Lyons-Home trial. The comments of the papers on this event are amusing and varied, but generally very severe upon the defendant. Our readers, of course, are aware that Mr. Home is the great American spiritualistic medium, who after his expose in Paris went over to London, where by a series of gross impositions he induced a rich widow lady, aged 74. to settle all her immense property, some £60,000, upon him, according to the directions and wishes of the spirit of her dead husband. The press is unusually severe upon the merits of the case even before the decision of the Courts is given .- The Morning Star regards the donation "as the most objectionable that ever came before the English tribunals." We should imagine, from the way the case is placed before the country, it will make it a poor place for the future operations of mediums .- Mr. Dicken's visit to America, by which he cleared £40,000, received a large share in both countries is generally admitted. The Americans say they will get on well with us, if we will get on well with them. and there seems no reason to doubt it. It is not doubted indeed, except by those of each country, who put themselves in a position ein presentiale au villa general reme la revision as little as possible. The Daily Teles graph speaks upon this point very sensibly as follows: 'As a nation we are on the most friendly terms with France, and it will not if we do not remain so ; yet French men can never be to us what Americans are by virtue of their race. The one simple circumstance that in talking to an American, alone amongst fereigners, that we can use our own tongue and quote our own books, constitutes a bond of fellowship which no entente cordiale can ever create, Our quarrels, while they last, may be for the moment more bitter, just as family feuds are the most violent. But when the passion has passed over, the kinship remains, and common thoughts, common memories, common ties of blood, bind us together more powerfully than any considerations of interest or of policy.'-The French have been much exercised about our Abyssinian expedition. They were quite liberal in their remarks about the inferior position England and her arms were now occupying in the world especially on the continent of Europe. In fact we have become so shoppy as a people, that we had ceased to be warlike, and all that sort

the powerlessness of the British Lion has been rather painfully disturbed

by the pistol shot from Magdala,

Theodore the vile, also imprisoned,

not only Consul Cameron, but Mrs.

Lejean and many other Europeans, but no Government of the continent ever thought of commencing a difficult and costly war for their liberation. That distinctive honor was reserved for Great Britain; and for doing the work so readily and so effectively she is allowed to deserve the praise of the world. The enormous amount of 150, 000,000 francs spent to rescue a single subject! The idea! How glorious! Yes it is glorious, and will return to the nation in various ways interest and compound interest before the sum is missed. The work commenced by the purchase of Aden, is enormously advanced by our victory in Abyssinia Somehow it is now seen on the continent, that there was as great a difference in the Mexican and Abyssinian expeditions as in their termination; and the Die Presse, Vienna, May 3rd, says: 'The attempts of French policy are as far behind the political projects and ideas of England as the am bition and selfishness of Marshal Bazaine were inferior to the worth of Robert Napier, and as Rouher's love for office is inferior to Gladstone's sincere devotion to his country.'

The "Moneta."

EDITOR COLONIST,-I beg to state that the letter signed "Fair Play" in this morning's paper appeared entirely without my knowledge; also that the statements contained therein are incorrect. I never would have senctioned the publication of any latters relerring to the late unfortunate position of the Moneta, and take this opportunity of testify, ing to the gentlemanly conduct of the Marshal, Mr Elliott, and the great forbearance of the constables acting under his orders.

I may also add that no one can regret more than I do the unfortunate circumstance of one officers heing wounded

EXPENSE OF THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL. EXPENSE OF THE IMPERCHMENT IRIAL.—
An Eastern cotemporary who has closely figured up and estimated the expense of the drama, says that besides retarding legislation for a month, the impeachment business will cost the neat little sum of half a million of dollars. With the characteristic economy with which our officials at Washington love to do humans at the page of with which our omeials at Washington love to do business, they have managed to make the one item of the printing of admission tickets to the trial cret $6000. The tickets were gotton up in the most elegant style, so that they might be kept as permanent souvenirs of this great historic seene, by the bolders thereof. It will cost nine thousand dollars to bring General Rosseau to Washington from the Pacific cases, at least, that officer from the Pacific coast; at least, that officer will get about that sum for coming and going and some other witnesses will get from one to five thousand dollars. Ten cents a mile and two dollars a-day is paid to witnesses; but, by a liberal interpretation of the law, and a little juggling, the distant witnesses have each been twice summoned, and there fore get double mileage, both coming and returning, or forty cents a mile. Pretty good witness fees! Another little item of cost in this impresement, trial is that it will cost this impeachment trial is, that it will cost one hundred thousand dollars to priot the trial as a Government document, which will be extensively franked over the country at a heavy mail cost, and be read by nobody; for by the time it is published, all interest in the trial will have subsided, or become merged in the excitement of the coming Presidential election. And no one will care anyhow to wade through the official reports of what the newspans have already given of what the newspapers have already given in surfeit to the public. Verily, we cannot have a great public show for nothing.— Montana Herald.

THE FOURTH OF JULY .- Another anniver sary of American independence has come round, and bids fair to be celebrated in our neighborhood by both Americans and English with more than usual spirit. A large party from this city intend visiting Port Townsend and another San Juan, while others will honor the holiday at home by picnics, excursions into the country, and other amusements. It is always well to encourage these international courtesies, for our possessions, our commerce, our necessities, our interests, although not fully realized generally, every year become more closely identified, and draw the two countries to a mily of peway and dealers which—will—coemmake them one and the same thing. England has been a vast gainer by the independence of America, so let both people celebrate today with harmony and spirit.

AGRICULTURAL AND HORVICOLIURAL preliminary meeting has been held with a view of holding an Agricultural Exhibition in this city, we believe, sometime in October next. Several parties have already subscribed towards the object. Prizes will be granted as heretofore, when the Society was one of the institutions of the Colony. At the present time, when our agricultural and stock raising interests never looked so hopeful, is it not befitting our people to lend their aid in promoting it still further by contrib-uting towards the object? We expect to be able to give additional information concerning so important a matter to the Colony at large, in a few days. CALEDONIAN SOCIETY .- Our citizens must not forget the entertainment given by the Caledonians to-day, if they would enjoy a pleasant time. Some 250 tickets have been sold. The time for commencing is fixed at half past I1; the day's proceedings are to open with an address from Mr Russell, the President. Programmes of the order of performances will be posted on the grounds for the convenience of visitors: and it will be seen the committee have amply studied the pleasure of all people. When the programme is exhausted dancing will commence, which, with good music and a fine evening, will no doubt be appreciated.

THE steamship Active arrived vesterday at noon after a splendid run of thirty-four hours from Portland to Victoria. Out of that time she stayed two hours at Astoria, and two hours off Cape Flattery on account of iog. There is no English mail, the steamship Pacific not bringing any from San Francisco. The Active leaves for Nanaimo on Sunday morning. For particulars of freight and passengers see proper column.

FROM SITKA .- By the schooner Black Diamond, Capt McCulloch-to whom we are under obligations-we are in receipt of late news from above, as published in our correspondent's letter. The schooner made the outside passage from Sitka in 13 days. Had forgy weather off the West Coast and swing several whalers, and brought down some of the crew of the Louisa Downs.

An ILLISTRATION .- The last trip from Portland to this place of the Active, at the old rates, only brought some three or lour pessengers. This trip, at reduced rates, she brought THIRTY. What more is needed to prove what we have long contended for, that if fares will come here as well as elsewhere,

THE George S Wright arrived here last evening at 8 o'clock, after a fine run from Astoria of 24 hours. She brings nine passengers and a cargo of produce, consisting of wheat, oats, flour, fruits, etc., for this port, About half her cargo is for Sitka, for which

In 1853 the imports amounted to £11,712, and the exports to £1,348; in 1867 the imports have been £269,580, and the exports £225,671, the lateral section of the content of ter the highest amount ever yet reached. In 1867 63,260 acres of land were under Indian core; 21 155 acres were under Kaffir corn; 1,859 acres were under wheat; 12,796 acres were under sugar; 3,155 acres were under coffee; 1,262 acres were cotton, 163 The year's export of wool. acres tobacco. The year's expo.t of wool, an ever-advancing item, amounted to 1,974, 447fbs. Of horses there were in the colony 16,78z; horned cattle, 339,547; woolled sheep 209,58z; Kaffir sheep, 42,985; mules, 226; goats, 131,48z. The total acreage of land under cultivation is stated to be 109,415, of which a very large proportion is wrought by the natives; and these people produce the greater portion of the Indian and Kuffir com. The majority of horned cattle is owned by patives, as also the Kaffir sheep and goats; and they likewise possess numbers of norses. Land cultivated by natives does not return more than from 15 to 20 bushels of Indian corn, with pumpkins, to the acre, whereas by the European method of ploughing and manuring ground from 46 to 60 bushels per acre may be obtained, besides a large crop of pennykins, for cattle and shear, leed, on the same land. The above results are the working of a population consisting of 16,963 whites (9,194 males and 7,769 females), and whites [9, 194] mates and 7,109 females; that a coloured population of 170,855, of whom 6,565 are East ludian coolies. The imports of the colony, reckoosed against the white population, amount to £15 per head, and the exports to £13.—Natal Mercury.

statement of accounts, was taken as read.

that the meeting was held later than usual, in consequence of delay in the arrival of the accounts from Cariboo, and the need, in the interests of the bank, of bringing to a close, certain communications between the board and some of the largest shareholders. He then proceeded - I trust I need hardly assure you that the report which it is the duty of your directors to submit to you is a source of disappointment and annovance to them. Disappointment, inasmuch as it is the evidence of their having been deceived, and annoyance because they had honestly striven and laboured to make the bank a permanent success and advantage to those who had invested their money in the undertaking. And yet, gentlemen, I believe this experience, however disappointing and however annoying, may yet prove to be a means of benefit to us. may have paid dearly for it; but what institution of the kind, what colonial bank has not had to pass through the same probation and the same trial? and still we see where sound principles exist, success eventually prevails. This I confidently look for, for we have the elements of success in ourselves-we have a field lished reputation, and our business proves that we are not dormant, but at every branch we have progress in the right direction and we are to the best of my be-lief and information, conducting a safe and remunerative business. And now, gentlemen, permit me to refer more particularly to the contents of the report. You will observe, on reference to the accounts, that the result of the past halfyear's transactions shows a balance of profits of £10,549 14s. 1d. as against or an increase of 50 per cent., and this in the fact of positive directions to our managers not to extend business, but to pursue that conservative policy which I referred to at our last meeting. The directors have most carefully inspected the various accounts at the several branches, and have every reason to believe that the transactions are safe and legitimate in their character, and indicate a careful adherence on the part of the managers to the system and rules laid down by the directors. It is also encouraging to find that the circulation of our notes and the deposit accounts have materially increased and this, backed as it is by a return of partial improvement generally in British Columbia, makes us reasonably hope for better times in the future. With regard to the accounts which have been placed in your hands, there is one point which I sure has not escaped your noticethat is, the strong financial position of the bank. You will observe that the whole of the liabilities of the bank due to the public, amounts to £162,510 while, on the other hand, I have much satisfaction in stating that the cash in hand, government securities, and bank premises, which latter are not in our opinion overvalued, represent a sum more than sufficient to meet these liabilities. I need not express to you our regret at the heavy amount of bad debts we have now to report, nor to assure you that they came upon us as unexpectedly as they must now come upon Very shortly after our last meeting intelligence reached us that the trustees had received extension of time, and who for so small a sum as to entail heavy losses on all the creditors. A very short time after that, our next largest debtor, who had also extension of time given, and who had been reported to us able to pay 60 per cent. within twelve months, also failed to keep his engagements. Such heavy failures, coming so suddenly and together, obliged others to succumb lieved that in October, 1866, we had made sice for all had delta late inspector had just arrived from the colonies, and advised us that we had done so. All the officers who have been in any way connected with these losses are no longer in the service of the bank. will observe that we state that our branches at San Francisco and Portland are steadily progressing, and that, as far as we are aware, no transaction involving loss, or, in our opinion, likely to result in loss, has been entered into, during the past twelve months. As to the prospects of the Colony, allow me to quote from a blue book just issued. In a letter from Charles Good, Esq., assistant colonial secretary, dated 28th November, 1867, he remarks ;-"The despondency among the mercantile community, induced by the numerous failures in 1866, had already begun to disappear at the close of the year. Trade was being carried on, on a firmer basis. The belief in the mineral wealth of the colony was placed on a much firmer footing. The indifference induced by general depression was gradually fading away, and a more hopeful and contented spirit was being engendered, Great strides were made in agriculture and stock raising, thereby commencing the era of a settled population, hitherto the great want of the colony. There is little doubt that with ordinary care and application on the part of the colonists the resources of this vast and peculiarly healthy country could be developed twenty-fold." I mentioned at the commencement of my remarks that we had received important communications from some of our largest propri-etors holding both new and old shares

this power, as the holders of old shares are as ten to one holders of new shares We do not at present require more capital, and we know that when wanted can be can be easily obtained. I will. therefore, put a resolution to this meeting after the adoption of the report, to give s power to deal with the whole matter. Before concluding I would wish to draw had been published, together with the your serious attention to the injurious effects caused by an injudicious discussion The Chairman commenced by explaining on a former occasion with regard to winding up. I am induced to allude to this subject in consequence of our having now received letters on the subjet from one or two shareholders who cannot have reflected on the consequences of such a step on the interests of their copartners as well as of themselves, and I beg to state, on behalf of the board, that any such action would receive no support from this side of the table, and I speak the sentiments of our largest proprietors on this subject, who have perfect faith in the soundness and stability of the bank and of its success. I make this statement that it may go forth to the customers of the bank abroad and to our branches, that any such intention has a direct contradiction from this meeting.

Mr Allenden (who complained of the low price of the shares) inquired what amount of government and other securities mentioned in the assets was held by the The Chairman-20,000l; 15,800l. of which consist of British Columbian bonds and the balance of 4,200l. is in Consols The issue of the Columbian bonds was 50,000l, which were provided for by a sinking fund; the whole was secured open of abundant resources, we have an estab- | the revenues of the colony and was repay able in 1872 and the money bore interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum

Mr Allenden regarded the position of the hank us nusatisfactory and advocated winding up. (No, no.) He would move an amendment to the adoption of the report, to the effect that a committee of three shareholders be appointed to consult with the directors upon the desirability of winding up. (No, no and laughter.) They had no security against losses, while col-

A shareholder remarked that it was aggestions of this kind, which usually, as in the present instance, emanating from comparatively small holders, and in opposition to the views of those who held large stake in the concern, which brought on the price of the shares.

Dr Beattie said that Mr Allenden, if he could not trust agents, but required to have his money always under his own control, ought not to have invested in the bank at all He deprecated the use of language which had a tendency to damage the con-

Mr Lowe asked if it was true that a bill in Chancery had been filed, containing serious charges against the bank?

The Chairman replied that all the charges had been withdrawn.

A shareholder desired to know whether the British Columbian bonds, in which the greater part of the reserve of 20,000l was invested, were saleable.

Mr Gillespie (director) explained that the 50,000L raised by the colony was a primary charge on the revenues. That a sinking fund was provided, which already amounted to 30,000% and that the whole would be paid off in 1872.

Mr Conybeare, as the shareholder who had filed the bill in Chancery, defended the course he had taken, which he said had been the means of eliciting satisfactory explanations. He deprecated any proposition for winding up, but complained of the issue of the uew shares upon the faith of statements made by the agents in the colonies as to profits on business which were unfounded, inasmuch as upon the old capital of 125,000l. it now turned out that instead of profits they had made were right in dealing with the new share capital as the chairman had intimated

Mr Scott recommended Mr Allenden o withdraw his resolution, and no seconder appearing he consented and it was withdrawn accordingly.

Mr Simpson believed the low price of the shares was owing to there being no The losses ought to be at once the payment of dividends. He asked the of the book-wheeleral wealer not be possible to write off part of the of $\varepsilon 2$ a share on the old shares, which would be £25 000, and 103 each on the new, which would be £4 800, and to declare a dividend on what would then remain, viz, £18 a share on the old and £4 10s on the new, at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, free of income tax which would absorb £5,100 and leave a reserve of £9.885.

Mr Freshfield, the solicitor, pointed out that the proposal would amount to such a reduc-tion of capital as the charter prohibited. He would consider the matter more maturely if desired. (No, no)

Mr Karslake, M. P., as a lawyer, corroborated the view taken by the solicitor, adding that as against creditors the writing off would be utterly nugatory, but he believed the directors might declare a dividend while a part of the capital which had been lost remained unreplaced, but the course proposed by the better position.

In reply to a question,
The Chairman said that the increase in the item of bank premises was owing to the purchase of premises which were formerly leased. The usual motion adopting the report and accounts was then moved by the Chairman seconded by Mr Gillespie, and carried unani mously,

The Chairman suggested a resolution:-

That as in the opinion of this meeting no further capital is at present needed by the company, the directors should be empowered to take such slops as they may be advised, with a view to limit the liability on the new shares to the £3 already paid thereon, either by qonsolidating the £5 shares into £20 shares, or by such other plan, and with such legal sanction as the directors may consider most for the interest of the company.' One shares on which £5 each bad been paid into one £20 fully paid-up share; another was to consolidate two of the new shares into one with £10 paid up, subject to £10 onable and just, and we have therefore consented to ask your sanction to endeavour to consolidate the new shares. We feel more confidence in asking from you feel we had the the same asking from the find that the proposal would relieve the holders of the new shares of the feel mareholders,

A shareholder recommended that the matter should be deferred to another meeting.

Mr Conybeare remarked that the bolder of the new shares had practically, in the premium at which the shares were issued, contributed to the losses which had been incurred by the bank.

Mr Karslake, M P, thought it would be premature to pass any resolution until it was premaure to pass any resolution until twise ascertained whether or not the thing could be legally done. By reducing the amount of the new shares they would be decreasing the security of the creditors of the bank unless they filled up the gap that would be thus made in the capital. He recommended thus made in the capital. He recommended that itshould be left to the directors to consider the matter maturely, and upon their discretion to submit such a proposal as they might be advised to the shareholders.

The Chairman, adopting the suggestion, withdrew the resolution upon the understanding that the house the least the standard of the suppose.

Alaska Correspondence. Sitka, Alaska, June 17th, 1868.

EDITOR COLONIST,—Thinking that a few Monday, July 13th, items from this distant and remote part of Uncle Sam's domain may prove of interest to the readers of the Colonist, I have been persuaded with this belief and by the hope that they will find an insertion in the columns of the Colonist, to send you a few local and general items concerning this place. TIMES IN SITKA.

Business and monetary transactions have become (judging from the present appearance of things), 'things of the past,' nothing save, a trifling amount of Indian trading is being done at present. The scarcity of trade is almost solely attributable to the absence ะโรงไปอยู่เกลู; พิทิธิยน โรงกรีบบน พัทษ์ของรู นินัน main source, barring a trifling trade with the Russeans, from which the merchants of this place derive anything. It might be thought that the presence of the soldiers stationed here afforded some income to the merchants; the soldiers are compelled by the regulations to purchase only off the Sattler, which, were generally, would materially assist them to make a living, which is hardly what they do at present. Everybody here is depending on the discovery of gold, silver, and coal mines; there is reported to exist within a short distance of Sitka a valuable cinabar mine specimens of the quartz have been exhibited from this mine, and the analysis of the specimens prove it to be exceedingly valuable no steps have been taken towards opening it, and it will perhaps remain always just as the Maker of it left it. The City Government are laying sidewalks on the principal streets, which are much needed; this with a few trifling law suits in the Mayor's court, are about the only local items of any interest at present. General news is nearly as scarce as city items, though I will endeavour to give you a few outside items.

THE 'GROWLER.' There was gotten up by the citizens of this place, through the energetic and commendable exertions of Mr William T. Armstrong, of your city, a requisition to the Mayor of the city, the hon W S Dedge, requesting that some one be sent to the scene of the wreck of the schooner Growler, and if practically possible, to ascertain the circumstances attending the loss of this vessel and if there were any survivors. For this purpose, Mr Chas Trueworthy, also of your city was sent to the scene of the wreck, who returned last week, bringing a few relics saved, among which were a few silver coins and a pocket knife identified as the one belonging to Capt Coffin. From his report of the place, it would seem practically impossible for any of the crow to have reached vessel is the schooner Growler, the circumstances attending the loss of this vessel will perhaps never be known. The U S S Saginaw, at present in port, returned here last week, having on board four Indians, arrested on suspicion of having murdered some of the survivors; they tell incredulous, improbable, and various stories concerning the transler out y one whom question of the different story. As yet nothing has been elicited trees, them confirming any of the other reports. What he would propose was to write off a loss of 1.22 share on the old share which would from them in a very damaged state, and not as reported, in a perfect condition; the clock and other things were very much damaged by salt water. My opinion is that these Indians are feigning an intimate knowledge of the circumstances attending the loss of the schooner for the purpose of exacting pay for their information and to make thems eelves consequential. Mr Trueworthy buried such remains as he found at the wreck and marked the place of burial with head boards; a great many of the bones were found in the woods, having doubtless been carried there

GENERAL NEWS-THE LOUISA DOWNS. Your paper of the 26th contains a report

This I feel very happy to contradict, as the Louisa Downs is at preent in port, with all safe and well on board. having arrived from the Tahkou gold mines two weeks since, with a sad and disappoints ed lot of gold seekers on board; their reports of the place does not contradict the presence of gold there, as they found it in good paying quantities, and in several other places prospected and found the color. The fault with the Tahkow mines was the presence of immense quantities of ice, and the great depth of water; had the season been further advanced when they arrived there they would have remained and worked the mines, but the prospects for the melting of the ice and the decrease of water greatly discouraged them. That there is gold, and plenty of it here, is unquestionable : on the profitable working of these, hangs the future of Sitks, which is, and can be the only thing that will ever make it a place. facilities for the alleviation of human sufering.

How many thousands of persons, both male and temale are there who are suffering out a mi-erable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from trips absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and dissigured faces, and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them from the happiness of marriage or of the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the seens. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying malaties—see that they are careed for, and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Dk. Gimos, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, who is certain to ourse the most involerate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those adhieded, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their freuds, to be careful of the many pretended Dectors who intest all cities, pulpoling they skill in our ing all deseases in a form hear physician from Europe and other place.

nedical disoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names suffic ently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the publi papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The mos stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale o medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorised by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs, Grimault et Co.'s Medi-
